Why Glossop?
The Sheffield, Ashton-under-Lyne and Manchester railway reached Glossop in 1842. By then Glossopdale was a thriving cotton mill area (in addition to wool mills). There were also cotton mills in Bury, and it seems likely that newly opening mills would have attracted people from the Bury area once the railway reached Glossopdale.

All from the same family?
These four trees all start with people who were born in Bury, Lancs, between 1813 and 1823. Were they related? I've not been able to prove it ... yet.

See three additional Glossop trees below!
